if your eyes are causing you trouble, you may have weak eyes. Of course the very best way to find out just what is the matter with your eyes is to have an expert oculist examine your eyes. Most oculists charge for this examination, but if you will come to me I will thoroughly examine your eyes, tell you exactly what is the trouble with them, and then tell you exactly what it will cost to cure them. I make no charge for this thorough examination.

You can readily find out for yourself if you are suffering with weak eyes. If your eyes are weak-you have headache, your eyes feel hot and dry, cloud gathers before the eyes, your eyes water when in the wind, with the slightest cold and when using them, things turn black while you are looking at them and gradually fade out of sight, then you'll rub your eyes to make vision become clear; your eyelds are puffy and hang down, making sleepy looking eyes; your eyes will become worse and worse till gradual loss of sight will follow from affection of the optic nerve.

Certainly the eyesight is the greatest gift a human possesses, so ought not be trifted with or neglected. When you are run down and weak in body, you take a tonic or do something to strengthen your body. Now, when your eyes are weak you ought to have an oculiest strengthen your body. Now, when your eyes some oculiests try to make up this weakness of the eye by prescribing glasses; these glasses, of course, make the vision more clear, but they do not strengthen the eye.

I strengthen and cure weak eyes by my new and original method by using mild medicines. Although I am a graduated doctor of three celebrated medical institutions, in addition to what I studied there, I worked out original methods in other words, my methods are nature's methods. My theory is that a doctor's duty is to help nature help herself. And this is why I only use mild medicines that assist nature in building up hroken-down parts and mild medicines, not against nature, as some oculiests with their evertasting cutting into the eye and use of p tels.

I have demonstrated that my mild-medicine treatment is the only successful cure for all diseases of the eya, and to prove this I have hundreds of testimonials from grateful patients from all parts of the country.

COMBINE HOLDS UP

Measures of Value to License Collector's Department Blocked in the House.

PASSED BY COUNCIL IN JULY.

Progress of Bogus License Tag, Runners and Restaurant Ordinances Is Checked Without Proper Explanation.

Three important bills, formulated by Lacense Collector Whyte as initiative adances toward revision of the license system, are held up by what is known as the House of Delegates combine. The bills were passed by the City Council early in June and July.

One of these measures classifies the ownership or use of bogus license tags as a misdemeanor and prescribes penalties for infraction of the law. Another provides for the licensing of runners, and specifies penalties for employing unlice, sed runners. The Committee on Legislation of the House of Delegates has had the former bill since July 15, and the latter since June 14. The third measure, which has been in the file of the Ways and Means Committee since or the ways and Means Committee since August 9, provides for a revision of restaurant licenses.

Rather questionable and contrasting explanations for failure to report the bogus license tag bill are causing many city officials to say that some members of the combine have insisted on the hold-up, for four this friends of the hold-up, for four this friends of the hold-up, for fear that friends or acquaintances who have, or did have, counterfeit tags, might be arrested and arraigned in court.

have, or did have, counterfeit tags, might be arrested and arraigned in court. In fact, it is generally rumored that one combine leader objected in a caucus, to reporting the bill, saying that he was afraid some bogus tags might suffer legal consequences. He believed that the "boys" should be afforded ample time to dispose of counterfeits.

The Committee on Legislation is composed of Messrs. Kelly, Burke, Fontara, Troli and Oberbeck. A month ago Mr. Kelly told License Collector Whyte, in the presence of witnesses, that he was endeavoring to have the bill passed, but the "boys" had some misgivings. Speaker Pro Tem. Sweency says Mr. Kelly informed the "boys" that Mr. Whyte would be satisfied if the bill would be passed by January 1.

In the presence of witnesses Mr. Whyte asked Mr. Kelly to hasten the report. Mr. Kelly asked how many tags were still out. "Oh, they are all in now." Mr. Whyte replied, "but we must have a law to prevent future counterfeiting." Mr. Kelly promised to "do all he could."

The restaurant bill is pronounced important by Mr. Whyte and he declares it should be passed and become effective by October 1, when restaurant licenses become payable. Its purpose is to increase rates for large restaurants and decrease them for small establishments. The Ways and Means Committee, which is holding up this bill, comprises Messrs. Sweeney, Kelly, Hannigan, Williams and Koeln.

OFFICERS CHASE BOYS IN BUGGY

Horse and Rig Said to Have Been Stolen.

An attempt made yesterday afternoon by Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 24.-There could Officer McCarron of Webster Groves to arscarcely be a more remarkable gathering rest two youths about 17 years old, who afterwards gave their names and addresses session near here to-day. The remnants of as Gabriel Levi of No. 112 South Sixth street "Quantrell's men" niet, as they have done and David Hertz of No. 1012 North Eleventh yearly since the days of the raids, but this street, and who were suspected by the year rather more formally than heretofore, police of Webster Groves of having stolen horse and buggy which they were driving about the village, resulted in a long chase in which Officers McCarron and Marshal Nace, mounted on horses, took part.

Officer McCarron learned that the two boys were trying to dispose of the horse and buggy for $40, and he decided to investigate the manner in which the property came in-to their possession. As Officer McCarron approached the boys, they whipped the horse and dashed away. McCarron put spurs to his horse and galloped after the

The youths drove through the village headed toward St. Louis. Marshal Mace, headed toward St. Louis. Marsani mace, who had by this time joined the chase, telephoned to Officer Lacey to prevent the escape of the fuglitives through the northern part of town. Seeing themselves surrounded, the lads halted in front of Blockmann's blacksmith shop, and were placed under arrest.

blacksmith shop, and were placed under arrest.

When landed in jail they explained that they had bought the rig for $4 from a negro in $1. Louis. The horse is described as a heavy animal, of dark bay color, with a white star in its forehead and a white stocking on the left hind foot. The buggy is of a pattern ordinarily used by physicians, and has red running gear.

Marshal Nace communicated with Chief of Detectives Desmond, and learned that a horse and buggy answering the above description, and owned by F. A. McKee, president of the McKee-Hartnagel Real Estate Company. No. 1134 Chestnut street, had been stolen. Mr. McKee went to Webster Groves last night and identified the horse and buggy as his, and will to-day swear out warrants against Levi and Hertz.

VICTIMS OF STREET CARS.

Russell Rawlings of No. 2946 Castleman wenue attempted to alight from a southound Vandeventer avenue car at Castle nan avenue vesterday morning and was hrown to the street. He sustained several bruises about the face, left side and left arm. None of them are serious. A Beliefontaine car ran into a coal wagon driven by Joseph Alfert of No. 3921 Blair avenue in front of No. 4427 North Twentieth street, demolishing the wagon. Alfert escaped injury.

James Cullen, a driver for Gill Bros., was thrown from his wagon in collision with a right side.

A northbound Jefferson avenue car ran into an enstbound Olive street car at 7:15 o'clock yesterday morning. The passengers of both cars were shaken up and badly frightened. The accident was caused by a confusion of signals. Each motorman thought the other had signaled the other to "go ahead."

MAD FLIGHT OF THOROUGHBRED

Mrs. George R. Fearnley Was Unable to Check the Animal.

The sidewalk on the south side of Morgan street from Nineteenth to Fourteenth streets was turned into a race course yesterday. But one horse engaged in the race, The animal, Bismarck, a fine bay road-The animal, Bismarck, a fine bay roadster, owned by George R. Fearnley of Normandy, was being driven by Mrs. Fearnley, an excellent horsewoman, as after events demonstrated. Scated in the handscme rubber-tired phaeton with Mrs.
Fearnley was her mother, Mrs. Charles A.

Mrs. Fearnley was driving eastward. At Nineteenth street the blowing of a whistle was Bismarck's signal for his unique flight.
Up on the sidewalk he dashed, and residents of the neighborhood took to their cellars as if a cyclone was approaching.
However, a cellar door, opened at an angle, proved a period—full stop, so to speak—for the doings of Bismarck. The phaeton came in contact with it at Fourteenth street, and there was a sudden halt. So sudden, in fact, that both Mrs. Fearnley and Mrs. Charlton were thrown to the sidewalk, and a chance was given a negro to stop Bismarck. Neither woman was hurt.
